

Backbone

Anthony Callea

You're my backbone, backbone, backbone
You're my backbone, backbone, backbone

No one knows me like you do
And everything I am I owe it all to you
It all just looks like me on the surface
Wanna take this moment to explain to you

You're my backbone
You're the strongest part of me
You're my backbone
You're the air when it gets hard for me to breath
When I crush and burn
I lived and learned
When all is said and done
You're my backbone, backbone, backbone
You're my backbone

I could have it all but not without you
I love that you come home to me
Underneath these scars you made them worth it
And you showed me when you trust, what love can do

You're my backbone
You're the strongest part of me
You're my backbone
You're the air when it gets hard for me to breath
When I crush and burn
I lived and learned
When all is said and done
You're my backbone, backbone, backbone

Against the odds, you turned my cards
Not afraid to risk it all
You me back and loved what you saw

You're my backbone
You're the strongest part of me
You're my backbone
You're the air when it gets hard for me to breath
You're my backbone
You're the strongest part of me
You're my backbone
You're the air when it gets hard for me to breath
When I crush and burn
I lived and learned
When all is said and done
You're my backbone, backbone, backbone
You're my backbone
