

Shadows

Anthony Callea

These 4 walls, aren't what stand to make a home
It's like the doors are closed, with no light through the window

Where did we go?
We're in too deep, to let it go

But when the lights go out at your show
I still need you, need to feel you
Don't forget me in the back row
I'll be the last one, waiting for you back home

Shadows

They can have you for now, but I need you tonight
Waiting in shadows
I need a piece of you now, more than you know, more than you know

Pillow talking myself into it all
When I wake up next to you, am I still #1?
Where did we go?
I need to know

But when the lights go out at your show
Will you still need me, need to feel me
You'll always have me in the back row
I'll be the last one, waiting for you back home

Shadows

They can have you for now, but I need you tonight
Waiting in shadows
I need a piece of you now, more than you know
Shadows of love love love
Shadows of love love love

Now the lights are out at your show
I still need you, need to let go, of the
Shadows
They can have you for now, but I need you tonight

Waiting in shadows
I need a piece of you now, more than you know
Shadows of love love love
They can have you for now, but I need you tonight
Waiting in the shadows
I need a piece of you now, more than you know
Shadows of love
