Sometimes I forget what is real
And I start to believe what I feel
Anxiety keeps telling those lies to me
Saying my heart and this pain won't heal

I'm worrying about what they'll say
If they knew all of the struggles I face
Trying to hold all it together is killing me
So I'm letting go and trust in your way

Your goodness and mercy is following me
Wherever I wonder I know there you'll be
No height can change
No depth take away
Your goodness and mercy is following me
Your goodness and mercy is following me

So now I know what I'm gonna do
I won't let them distract me from truth
Everything that you started you'll finish in me
And as I wait on you my strength is renewed

Your goodness and mercy is following me
Wherever I wonder I know there you'll be
No height can change
No depth take away
Your goodness and mercy is following me
Your goodness and mercy is following me

Let it follow, follow, follow
Let it follow, follow, follow
Let it follow, follow, follow
Let it follow, follow, follow

Your goodness and mercy is following me
Wherever I wonder I know there you'll be
No height can change
No depth take away
Your goodness and mercy is following me
Your goodness and mercy is following me

Your goodness and mercy is following me
Wherever I wonder I know there you'll be
No height can change
No depth take away
Your goodness and mercy is following me
Your goodness and mercy is following me

Let it follow, follow, follow
Let it follow, follow, follow
Let it follow, follow, follow
Your goodness and mercy is following me
