I can't believe that Your love made me new
I found everything I am looking for in You
Lost and afraid, but You've called me Your own
Never too far too be far, You're my home

Your love is ever reaching
This life has been forgiven
My world has been invaded

All I know my heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home

You own the skies and yet and still You've won my heart
I was a part of Your plan from the very start
All of the shame from my past fade away
You know the depths of my heart still love me the same

Your love is ever reaching
This life has been forgiven

My world has been invaded
All I know my heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home

You've pursued me
Promise to me
All I need
You're my fire, You take me higher
Now I'm free

Your love is ever reaching
This life has been forgiven
My world has been invaded
All I know my heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
My heart is now Your home
