

Reverse

Anthony Evans

Been a while
I saw you again, same smile
And the feelings began to come back
Oh, just like that

Your eyes
They tell the same story as mine
How we tried to hold on
Before it was gone

As much as I want to
It's something I can't do
I can't love you
Our love turns to hurt
Can't go in reverse
You can't cross a bridge that's burning
Baby that's why I hate what I have to do
I can't love you
I can't love you

At night
I dream of you in-spite
Of all the signs that let me know
That it's time to Let go

As much as I want to
It's something I can't do
I can't love you
Our love turns to hurt
Can't go in reverse
You can't cross a bridge that's burning
Baby that's why I hate what I have to do
I can't love you
I can't love you
Ooh!

How do you draw the line between fact and feelin'? Yeah
How will our wounded hearts ever start healin'?

Our love turns to hurt
Can't go in reverse
You can't cross a bridge that's burning
Baby that's why I hate what I have to do
I can't love you
I can't love you