

Trust In Me Now

Anthony Evans

I know your past
The point of breaking into pieces
I know you feel
Like there's no reason even worth this
And when you cry
The tears that fall don't even touch your pain, no, no

Even though you feel alone
Even though your strength is gone
As your weary heart just tries to hold on
Even if your faith is lost
Even if its hard to trust
In a Lord, that would let the rain fall down
Trust in me now
Trust in me now

I can hear every prayer that goes unspoken
I feel the weight, yeah, of everything thats on your shoulders
So don't give up
There is nothing we can't overcome
There's nothing we can't overcome

Even though you feel alone
Even though your strength is gone
As your weary heart just tries to hold on
Even if your faith is lost
Even if its hard to trust
In a Lord, that would let the rain fall down
Trust in me now
Trust in me now

I can see what you cant see
And I will hold you close to me
Through the storm until you see the light

Even though you feel alone
Even though your strength is gone
As your weary heart just tries to hold on
Even if your faith is lost
Even if its hard to trust
In a Lord, that would let the rain fall down
Trust in me now
Trust in me now
Trust in me now
Trust in me now
