

Begging You

Anthony Russo

Oh yeah
I know you really wanna
Really wanna lay it on me
So lay it on me
Oh yeah
I know you really wanna
Really wanna tell me something
So tell me something, hey

'Cause I built walls for the fake type
But you knocked once and they all came down
You're a warmth I can stay by, stay by

I'm begging you, begging you, begging you
Begging you, begging you, oh oh
Begging you, begging you, begging you
Begging you, begging you, oh oh
'Cause your body is calling
And I want to pick up
'Cause you body is calling
And I want to pick up

Oh yeah, uh
No hesitation, don't keep me waiting, I'm ready for it
Baby close your eyes, throw it back
I'll take you places that we can't afford yet
I know you like, like your independence
I know that you scared to be committed, mmh
But I'll be right here when you're ready for it

So tell me when you're ready, already up in the clouds
Falling with no parachute is deadly, but I don't mind hitting the ground
As long as you are there by my side

'Cause I built walls for the fake type
But you knocked once and they all came down
You're a warmth I can stay by, stay by

I'm begging you, begging you, begging you
Begging you, begging you, oh oh
Begging you, begging you, begging you
Begging you, begging you, oh oh
'Cause your body is calling
And I want to pick up
'Cause you body is calling
And I want to pick up

I'm begging you, begging you, begging you
Begging you, begging you, oh oh
Begging you, begging you, begging you
Begging you, begging you, oh oh
'Cause your body (your body) is calling (is calling)
And I want to pick up
'Cause your body (your body) is calling (is calling)
I want to pick up
