In The Maze Of A Nightmare

No, this time it's over No more hope for illumination I should have stayed On the other side I should never have left dwarves I'd longingly burn this parchment As my body under this firmament

Oh, no ruby, no diamond Only dry sands My open sores bleed and Stain my already clouded mind I strive to do a quest That is not mine Under this heavy sky

Burn ! Burn ! My skin burns no time and lose To save water and food Empty horizon Showing the lack of construction

No more stone for the statue No more fountain blue Not allowed is the return Only exploration, profound

Zenith strikes straight now The only thing to do is suffer Until i crack Until my flesh starts falling off

His back against a rock To find a shade of cold Amryl vanished, far away Without realizing it

Poor amryl Lost in his thoughts Poor amryl Already gone Out of his corpse Forever and ever Alone be disappears

This is paradise, vision divine And now i know how it ends Nature rivers never dry up And the illusion is perfect Dear saint leader Horse defender You brought me there Blessed you are then thanks In my paradise i now can die

Anthropia