

Break Something

Anti-Flag

Just trying to cope, the pushing and the pull
Anxiety that won't let go
This never ending race, no exit to escape
Takes everything from you

"The Great Recession", a great depression
A boom and bust - a Goldman Sachs play date
Supply and demand, they'll work you to death
Leave you broken, tell you, "Have a nice day"

I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break break something
Break break something, break something today

The Chicago School, neoliberal rule
Will work you till you crash
S.R.I. nation, the corporation
This ain't a model that is built to last

I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break break something
Break break something, break something today

I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break break something
Break break something, break something today

You want the suit at the top
To tell you what your life should cost?
I guarantee, it's a speck of what it's worth to you

You want the suit at the top
To tell you what your life should cost?
I guarantee, it's a speck of what it's worth to you

I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break break something
Break break something, break something today

I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break something today
I'm gonna break, gonna break break something
Break break something, break something today
