

Cold

Antidote

Quiet men with expanded minds
Learning from my misery
Investing my malfunctions
Watching how I freeze
How the hell did I end here
Answers can't be recalled
These cold endless halls
With white concrete walls
...Will they be my grave?

Will to live is fading away
Giving space to growing emotion
Cannot open my blinded eyes
Nothing is left but cold

Visions of warmth fading away
Blood in my veins runs so slow
Why me, I ask myself
What the hell have I done?
Quiet men with black and empty thoughts
Sucking my fear to their minds
To extend their sick knowledge
I am dying for
...To satisfy their needs

Will to live is fading away
Giving space to growing emotion
Cannot open my blinded eyes

Quiet men with expanded minds
Learning from my misery
Investing my malfunctions
Watching how I freeze
Corruption of technology
Defeats humanity
Hunger of life is hard to feed
When confidence is taken by greed
...is taken by greed

Will to live is fading away
Giving space to growing emotion
Cannot open my blinded eyes
