

Do You Remember

Antidote

Do you remember the days we used to hang out
Punkrock for life, that's what you said
Then you settled down never saw you again
I still remember those days

Do you remember the days we were in love
We went to every gig around couldn't get enough
Then you told me you were sick and tired of punk
Now you get your kicks from discojunk