

Destined To Remember

Anubis Gate

If nothing else will come of this
Than a crazed experience
I might tell you something I think you know
That you're keeping out of sight
Lost, but not erased
Time will show

Don't stray, you're destined to remember
'Cause you can't stop thinking 'bout the day
I pray you'll find what you endeavour
And make peace on the way

You must dig into your underworld
There's secrets waiting there to be found
But brace yourself for a vicious past
So unsafe and so unsound
It's time to face yourself

Don't stray, you're destined to remember
'Cause you can't stop thinking 'bout the day
I pray you'll find what you endeavour
And make peace on the way

Living with a troubled mind
Defined life and left you in a bind
(you took the only road you knew)
Been wasting your time, wasting your time...

Only you can change your ways
And reluctance will bring you hell to pay
(Clear your mind and you'll be free, yeah)
Don't be wasting your time, wasting your time

Don't stray, you're destined to remember
'cause you can't stop thinking 'bout the day
I pray you'll find what you endeavour
And make peace on the way
