

Right Love, Wrong Time

Anuheia

I was your lady in red that Saturday night
And a fire ignites under the full moonlight
In spite of the diss it was lust at first sight
Asked you for the time, it was wrong but it seemed right
Feeling the buzz long after the bar
You come to my show, tell me I'm a star
Knowing I'm going we're knowing we shouldn't be doing this tonight
When logic says no, mind and body says it's oh so right

So many sides to him, so many marks on the wrong side of the line
I can't resist him, there's something about him I can't push aside

'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
Guess we'll have to wait until the summertime
'Cause it's the right love at the wrong time
Why'd we have to meet each other in our prime
'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
You're sure gonna be a fun tree to climb
But it's the right love at the wrong time

So you don't have a phone
You got a punk undertone
The tallest surfer I know
And your hair's overgrown
You have holes in your shoes
You're always down to cruise
Only make enough money to pay for our booze
But do you even realize you have stars in your eyes?
Potential to dive into your wildest prize, so baby
Pick a skill and run for it, run
'cause the sun's gonna shine and I just wanna have fun

So many sides to him, so much trouble just to make our lives intertwine
He's so persistent, there's something about him I can't leave behind

'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
Guess we'll have to wait until the summertime
'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
Why'd we have to meet each other in our prime
'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
You're sure gonna be a fun tree to climb
But it's the right love at the wrong time

I only want what you want
So keep me on the up and up and everything will be alright
Trust in me and I will trust in you
Because I do believe that this is worth so much more
This distance is a temporary state
But the right love is always worth the wait

Tick tick tick tick tick tick around the clock
Can't get you out of my head, no, it won't stop
Tick tick tick tick tick it won't stop
And feels so good

'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
Guess we'll have to wait until the summertime

Right love at the wrong time
Why'd we have to meet each other in our prime
'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
You're sure gonna be a fun tree to climb

But you're the right love at the wrong time
Guess we'll have to wait until the summer time
'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
You're sure gonna be a fun tree to climb
But you're right love at the wrong time
Why'd we have to meet each other in our prime
'cause it's the right love at the wrong time
