Anxious

When you tell me I'm more than enough
You paint me in your love
What more can I say to you
And prove you mean as much to me too

When I worry I don't measure up
You tell me all the right words I don't know
What more can I say to you
And is there anything that I can't do

So well walk together hand in hand
You'll show me what it means to be a man
And we'll take time to rest when we're old
In those old rolling hills where we were born

I hope you know you were more than enough
When you're watching me from above
What more can I say to you
I'll see you in everything that I do

I say to you
I'll see you in everything that I do
