

House On Fire

Any Given Sin

Are you choking on the smoke and
Are feeling like the world is exploding?
Are you the victim or the villain?
Did you pour the gasoline or was it spilling?

As the world falls down
The sirens sound

Are we strong enough to face the flames
From this house on fire, this house on fire?
Is there still time for us to save
Oh this house on fire, this house on fire?

All the madness, all the panic
Why is everybody running to the attic?
We go and build it and then it crashes
I never thought that we'd be sifting through the ashes

As the world falls down
The sirens sound

Are we strong enough to face the flames
From this house on fire, this house on fire?
Is there still time for us to save
Oh this house on fire, this house on fire?

Are we strong enough?
Can we learn to love?
Are we strong enough?
Can we learn to love?

I don't believe it's ever too late
Too late to learn from all the mistakes
Light up the sky and burn all the hate
Burn all the hate, burn all the hate

Are we strong enough to face the flames
From this house on fire, this house on fire?
Is there still time for us to save
Oh this house on fire, this house on fire?
