

Asteroid

Anya Marina

I have tried to fix myself
Straighten out the bumps and flatten where I'm bent
Heal the parts that needed help
I have tried to fix myself

Spent my whole life growing up
And yet here I am—I'm just a kid
With a hundred miles to go
Til I get to where I need to get

In moments just like these
Feels like I left everything
That I've ever learned behind

Tonight I wanna run away
Lie under the stars until I'm whole
Don't want to wonder if I'm missed
I just want to be alone
In the moment with myself
And the asteroid in space
Cruising at two million miles every hour
Heading my way

In moments just like these
Feels like I left everything
That I've ever learned behind

The sky is endless, I can't fit
Everything I see into my eyes
Can't count the stars
Like my problems they all multiply

I have tried to fix myself
Straighten out the bumps and flatten where I'm bent
Heal the parts that needed help
I have tried to fix myself