Need

Anything Box

All I need is under the spell of words, Always there, trying to remind me of What and who I am...

All I need is high on the sea of stars, Shining down, trying to remind me of What and who I am...

A tear to catch when it all comes crashing Down, a loving face that tears away The frown, somebody who needs to Need, is all I needed...

All I need plays on my soft machines, Like a child, trying to remind me of what And who I am...

Even though I've seen the heavens fall With the taint of every heart we tore, In spite of the odds, my friend, It was all I needed...

All I needed all I needed
