This is nothing more than a few Words, broken gestures that you've Probably heard...

Even when it seems we have nothing, All we really need is to self love...

Did you ever feel people were Wrong, pointing fingers and stumbling Along? even when you Thought they were nothing, all they Really needed was self love...

When your soul is tired come out To play, speak when ever you've Something to say. even if my song Tells you nothing, all you really Needed was self love...

La, la, la, la, la, la, la, la La, la, la, la, la, la, la
