

Same Kind of Different

Aphyxion

So get this fucking straight
We are in this together, never alone
You are flesh I am bone
We were left for nothing and pushed aside
Beaten, picked on and left to die
Let the hate consume you
Together we rot
In this pit of salvation
This unprejudiced spot

I will mark you my path, so step in my tracks,
Now that I can truly see
We are the same kind of different, you and me
We share the suffering
We keep on wondering
Now that I can truly see
We are the same kind of different, you and me

Honed for perfection
Subject to aggression
Being used as tools for control
But we were meant for another role (for another role)
Let the hate consume you
Together we rot
In this unprejudiced spot

I will mark you my path, so step in my tracks,
Now that I can truly see
We are the same kind of different, you and me
We share the suffering
We keep on wondering
Now that I can truly see
We are the same kind of different, you and me

We've been left for nothing
Pushed aside
Beaten, picked on and left to die
Reach out for my hand, I will lead you the way
To a sanctuary place, within your hate and your pain...

I will mark you my path, so step in my tracks,
Now that I can truly see
We are the same kind of different, you and me
We share the suffering
We keep on wondering
Now that I can truly see,
We are the same kind of different, you and me

I'll mark you my path
So step in my tracks
Now that I can truly see
We're the same kind of different you and me
We share the suffering
We keep on wondering
Now that I can truly see
We're the same kind of different you and me
