

You know what I meant when I said
Couldn't live without you
You know what I meant when I said
Heaven's all around you, hey

Close your eyes, tell me what you see
We're standing on the edge, earth beneath our feet
I loved you like a lamb, and I fought just like a soldier
Made love like we were young, but honey, we're only getting older
So when we turn to dust, you know I'm right behind you
'Cause when we both die, I'll never be more alive
Than when I'm right beside you, beside you, yeah

You know what I meant when I said
Couldn't live without you
You know what I meant when I said
Heaven's all around you, hey

Seen the devil at the altar, and God inside a bar
Heard the whiskey-
soaked confession of a broken man and his guitar
I have been made whole, yet the world has torn me apart
I've walked a million miles, but honey, I don't know where to start, yeah

You know what I meant when I said
Couldn't live without you
You know what I meant when I said
Heaven's all around you, hey
You know what I meant, meant, meant, meant, meant
You know what I, know what I, know what I meant
You know what I meant when I said
Heaven's all around you, hey

You know what I meant when I said
Couldn't live without you
You know what I meant when I said
Heaven's all around you, hey
You know what I meant, meant, meant, meant, meant
You know what I, know what I, know what I meant
You know what I meant when I said
Heaven's all around you, hey
