I wonder how long we can get away
Side by side, I'm stuck to my phoney pride
Always craving for something missing

Never get it, I'm always trying
Never get it, I'm always trying

Never really been down with someone
Every one of us would wish to be
Someday not too far away, we'll be facing

We never share what we hide, after all
We wanna share what we hide, after all

See you passing by everyday, yeah
We're living up time in denial
Every one of us deep inside wishes

We would share what we hide, after all
We could share what we hide, after all
