

Possible Impossible

Aqualung

Impossible to fight
When I'm only half right
When there's nobody in the ring
But me

Impossible to win
But I'll never give in
Until I lose everything
So please

Don't change my mind
I'm not ready to be wrong
Don't you
Open my eyes
Cos I've known it all along

I know what I had
I know what you want
But there's something in the way
There's something in the way now

Was it impossible to be
What I needed to be
When you dared me to look
Your way?

Was it impossible to see
What was coming for me
Or had I turned and turned Away?

Don't change my mind
I'm not ready to be wrong
Don't you
Open my eyes
Cos I've known it all along

I know what you need
You need me to stay
But there's something in the way
There's something in the way

I'd fall at your feet
Collapse in your arms
But there's something in the way
Something in the way now

Always in the way now
