Just A Day

Aquilo

Billions of hearts break every day
They're still finding stars way out in space
There'll always be words you wish you could say
Don't worry, it's just a day

This time of year the world spins slow
Maybe tomorrow you still won't know
If you should hold on or let them go
Don't worry, it's just a day

And when the lights are all glowing
And the movies, they're showing
It's easy to get carried away
When the night may be snowing
There's no way of knowing
Who even cares anyway

How the heavens burst
And your heart, yeah, it hurts
It's only just a lightshow
Just mannequins in windows

Now strangers are singing in the streets
And half of the world can get to sleep
Maybe I can dream you back to me
Don't worry, it's just a day

'Cause billions of hearts break every day
They're still finding stars way out in space
There'll always be words you didn't say
