Comin' Back for More

Aranda

I've got a lot of things but you're taking it
I made a big mistake and I pay for it
You've got a lot of nerve
I already know so don't remind me
You know you took my heart now you're breaking it
You throw it in my face I'm not taking it
You've got a lot of nerve
I already know so don't remind me

When you think the worst is over
It drags you down a little lower

We are living in insanity
Too young to care what we've been told
Knocked down, but we're getting up again
Whoa, coming back for more
We are living in insanity
Too young to know what we don't know
Face down oh we're getting up again
Whoa, coming back for more

You know I had a plan now they're changing it
I made a big mistake would you pay for it
I got a lot of nerve
I already know so don't remind me
I had a lot of heart now they're breaking it
Is it all a joke are we faking it
We got a lot of nerve
I already know so don't remind me

When you think the worst is over
It drags you down a little lower

We are living in insanity
Too young to care what we've been told
Knocked down, but we're getting up again
Whoa, coming back for more
We are living in insanity
Too young to know what we don't know
Face down oh we're getting up again
Whoa, coming back for more

Oh, we know they wanna put us in chains
We see you coming from a million miles away
We know they wanna put us in chains
You know we see you coming from a million miles away

We are living in insanity
Too young to care what we've been told
Knocked down, but we're getting up again
Whoa, coming back for more
We are living in insanity
Too young to know what we don't know
Face down oh we're getting up again
Whoa, coming back for more
