

They hated all the things I did
Though I can't seem to see
Anything peculiar about it so
Had my first therapy
Sixteen influencing
Young people to love me

Depressing guy, unhealthy mind
Market sales off the charts
As long as I can keep this up
I'll be more of use to them
Said I had debt for what I did
Money helps to cover it

As I'm growing old
Old, and old, and older
Now I get to know
That it was wrong, but it's alright
'Cause humans tend to not apologize
Over something they don't truly understand
And I was too young
To be knowing about it so

Sympathy
Empathy without a fee
I'm losing all my senses
I'm confused of how I'm supposed to be
Acting as a prodigy
I thank you for believing me
Take me far from ecstasy
It's getting too cold

As I'm growing old
Old and old and older
Now I get to know
That it was wrong, but it's alright
Humans tend to not apologize
Over something they don't truly understand
And I was too young
To be knowing about it so

I miss you
My younger self
You've hold on strong
When no one's helping
Watch me grow
And be like the other guys
(Other guys)
Other guys
(Other guys)

As I'm growing old
Old and old and older
Now I get to know
'Cause humans tend to not apologize

And I was too young
