everything

Universe universe faraway never, never, never seen the place

Satellite satellite satellite

Come on speed of light innovation
I'm in galaxy it's no fantasy promises eternity
around the sun destiny

Universe universe
never, never, never make you cry

Galileo Galileo sense deeper, deeper, deeper

Breaking down
Close your eyes

Universe universe

flash light search light

Human mystery be with you
Supernova world take off
Starting over next stage

Dreaming of past times first time it's searchable from the earth
Now is a mystery the pulse of space
A flash light in my dreams when it rains down now, a search light
Human mystery be with you
Supernova the large world take off
Starting over let's always go to the next stage and draw an asterisk

At the ends of space where even the stars sleep, you and me are wandering aimlessly
Everything pulses with the desire for love crossing through thousands of spaces and times

Universe universe unknown and faraway
Imagine it you've surely never, never, never seen the place

Satellite satellite only looking at you
Answer it and send it with my heart into orbit

Come on release it, at the speed of light an innovation of the distant future
I'm in galaxy it's no fantasy I'll show it to you
Promises that continue to twinkle the eternity we had searched for together
Going around and around the sun it's our destiny to be drawn to each other

Universe universe to an eternal place
Resonate I'll never, never, never, never make you cry

Galileo Galileo rewriting sense
Prove it deeper, deeper, deeper, deeper go forward

Breaking down there, sound is lost
Close your eyes play the melody to your heart

Universe universe heart beating fast
Imagine it create it there's still a long way to go after that

Even the radiance is captured by the black hole
The gently smiling sun
Only a little of the natural light shined through (universe, never stop, let go, we go)
Give the stars your power shining on

It'd be better if there wasn't any deep darkness at all
The eras have come and gone
What kind of vision of the future do we see now? (universe, never stop...)
Let it go everybody, clap yo

A shower of light escapes our bodies running through a tunnel
"Gather" it touches our skin
The starry sky keeps calling out to us
A shower of light escapes our bodies running through a tunnel
"Gather" it touches our skin
The starry sky is watching

Come on release it, at the speed of light an innovation of the distant future
I'm in galaxy it's no fantasy I'll show it to you
Promises that continue to twinkle the eternity we had searched for together
Going around and around the sun it's our destiny to be drawn to each other
