This is the movement, looking for my life, I can find myself
This is the movement, looking for my life, I can find myself
This is the movement

It's a brand new world

No matter how far we go, we can't outrun it
Even if time goes on, it won't disappear
Then, how far do we have to go until we get there?
The memories of that faraway day

If you look at the sky at dawn, it's shining
It's a brand new world
Gazing at one star that we saw in our dream

On the days that repeat themselves
We'll get back the dream we had lost
We don't want a world of lies
We'll grab it with this hand

Yes, we're always waiting, no matter how long, we'll be waiting
On the path that continues forever

The dream that we've always held in our hearts will definitely come true
Laughing and crying, we'll go forward

No matter how much time goes by, it doesn't reach you
At the end of a night when I suddenly felt lonely
"Why are the tears overflowing so much?"
I ask the sky

I'm always searching for passions
It's a brand new world
Only one destination is being shone on

The light that I found in the days I went through while being hurt will carve into me
We don't need a future that will hurt our pride
With these hands, I'll grab it

Yes, someone is surely waiting, waiting and wanting to tell us
On the path that continues forever
Facing tomorrow and shining, we'll continue chasing this dream
Going forward and shouting until our voices are hoarse

Wanting to experience a love that expands into infinity
Hope is overflowing in you and I
The love in this heart, each love...
Making certain of the meaning why we were born

What are we really doing?
What are we really looking at?
What are we really living for?

"I'm already..." Ah! Already like a kaleidoscope
To protect my small pride
I unexpectedly hurt someone
Yesterday and today and today is like that
Let's do something today for today

Calmly fluttering overhead
Hoist up this vague dream
I can't see the end of this road yet
I can't learn anything unless from mistakes

To exceed beyond the sky, I have this tone of life
Facing the future from that time, my life goes forward without any expectations

We're always waiting

Yes, we're always waiting, no matter how long, we'll be waiting
On the path that continues forever
The dream that we've always held in our hearts will definitely come true
Laughing and crying, we'll go forward

Someone is surely waiting, waiting and wanting to tell us
On the path that continues forever
Facing tomorrow and shining, we'll continue chasing this dream
Going forward and shouting until our voices are hoarse
