Your lovely face was dyed in brilliant colors
I came to know my weak side, because I met you by chance

If I'm crushed by the pain that is too much to carry
The feelings that couldn't reach you will only get stronger

The snow is simply quiet as if it were similar to you
It flutters down to this shoulder and I smile gently
Because if I were to touch it with my hand, it would surely disappear
I'll leave it where it is and alone, close my eyes to feel you

I tenderly kissed your sleeping face
I couldn't say it honestly, hiding my shaking heart

If I just believe that smile and hold you
The sky will echo with the sound of a miracle

The snow is simply quiet as if it were similar to you
It flutters down to this shoulder and I smile gently
Because if I were to touch it with my hand, it would surely disappear
I'll leave it where it is and alone, close my eyes to feel you

My burning white passion went astray on the wind and soared higher
I wonder if it will follow you to the distant place you are

If you wish it, I'll offer you myself
Entrust me with all the sadness that befalls you

So that we can welcome the spring, we hold each other close
If we melt away, we won't need anything

The snow is simply quiet as if it were similar to you
It flutters down to this shoulder and I smile gently
Because if I were to touch it with my hand, it would surely disappear
I'll leave it where it is and alone, close my eyes to feel you

We can't wish for eternity

But even so, you are the person dearest to me
