You're hero!

You're hero!

Running on the same road as usual again today still searching for a new "you rself"

On a rainy morning too on a windy night too my dream will still continue

There are times when everyone thinks they can't go on anymore
Without giving up, a bit at a time up! up! up! up! higher

Stick out your chest in pride
Now is the time when you are the real hero
This field is the stage where you'll shine
Overcoming the tears you've cried, standing here
That gaze is of a hero who will give the world courage

You're hero!

Every day there are things that you can't take a break on or things that you can't stop

Waiting for tomorrow's dawn while being impatient, but while believing

Because you can't become a genius suddenly
Keep on going little by little up! up! up! up! someday

Start walking
Your dream is everyone's dream
This time right now is your shining stage
Now is the time when you are the real hero
That gaze is of a hero who will give the world courage

You're hero!

Those friends that I chased after my dreams with
I can definitely feel them besides me now

Now is the time when you are the real hero
This field is the stage where you'll shine
Overcoming the tears you've cried, standing here
That gaze is of a hero who will give the world courage

Your dream is everyone's dream
Overcoming the tears you've cried, standing here
Now is the time when you are the real hero
That gaze is of a hero who will give the world courage

You're hero!
