C'mon, baby another world

C'mon, baby hit the floor c'mon, baby hit the floor

C'mon, baby let's go to another world together with you to another world
That's right, you're definitely tonight's secret lady C'mon, baby let's go to another world together with you

Like how bubbles fade, the glass is about to disappear soon so come over to this side
A scent that tickles at my nose dances around

No one else here has such an enchanting gaze Before you get noticed by someone else, I'll become your daring escort who's longing for love

Let's escape the light on ships that made even skyscrapers float Stranger without a name, welcome to the other side of dreams

Baby I'll show you an unknown world
I think you'll definitely like it another world
If there's anything that makes you sad, then I'll hide it away for a hundred million years

Baby that back that you bared to me, I won't let anyone else touch it
It's no use worrying about things outside the window they're just traps to split us apart
I'll never let you go

Are you tired from playing around? while swaying in a comfortable sleep
This story that will never be erased, forget it now

Let's take only the light with us open the curtain of tears
See? look beyond dreams is an insatiable paradise

Baby even if the spell is broken
Let's keep dancing hit the floor
We don't need lies it's fine if the feelings overflow I'll wrap you in sweet words
Baby I just watched you as you excitedly ran around I won't let anyone get in the way
When the time rings out midnight, I'll take you to the next world

I've got a bad feeling something is crawling around in this masquerade
Baby don't leave my side ever again I'll protect you

Baby I'll show you an unknown world
I think you'll definitely like it another world
If there's anything that makes you sad, then I'll hide it away for a hundred million years
Baby that back that you bared to me, I won't let anyone else touch it
It's no use worrying about things outside the window they're just traps to split us apart
I'll never let you go
