I always want to feel you

梦中梦 梦中

You always prayed for my dream to come true

So now, I only want to quietly pray for your happiness by your side

Feeling like I'm being thrown back to the starting point everyday, sometimes
I feel like I'll lose sight of myself

But you gently found a small future for us that will lead to tomorrow

You always prayed for my dream to come true

So now, I only want to quietly pray for your happiness by your side

Unable to catch the possible futures that spilled from my fingers without a sound

Standing still in a crowd, everyone else seemed so happy

Now I think I can understand the reason for the words you said with a smile
Even a coward like me, I won't let myself run away ever again

"Choose your own future"

I'm praying for your future now

In this small world, I met you

I'd just been cutting myself short

Ah if we can draw out a path again together

Then we'll both probably shine the way for each other

Let's hold hands once again, grab my hand

Let's go forwards, just the two of us

"Let's live together"

As if needing to make sure, we didn't let go of each others hands

With a strong vow in our hearts, we kept walking and talking

Halfway up a hill, we're still climbing up

These feelings won't ever change even as the days go by

Now I think I can understand the reason for the words you said with a smile
Even a coward like me, I won't let myself run away ever again

You always prayed for my dream to come true

So now, I only want to quietly pray for your happiness by your side

I always want to feel you

Now, I'll quietly pray for your dream to come true
