No one knows or should know
Of those tears hidden inside of your eyes

Like in a dream, stop time
Let the sadness gently continue to sleep

Even now the revived memories are like glass covered with cracks
Full of scratches, believing in tomorrow

Now, in this hand I hold my hopes, searching for the truth
A story no one knows is starting
Because you are here, I won't get lost
I won't cry until that day

I'm not afraid of a future I haven't seen yet
I just believe in the world in front of my eyes

Things I have in my hands things I've lost
Everything certainly has significance

Even if we're trapped in sadness, we'll be shown the way to happiness
Living in the present walking with you

Don't ever forget I'm here
A story no one knows will continue
Betting everything, there are things we want to protect Going through those definite feelings

Like the past and the future mixing together
The sun will start to climb in the sky

A story is beginning

Because you are here, I won't get lost
Let's overcome those long nights

Now, in this hand I hold my hopes, searching for the truth
A story no one knows is starting

Because you are here, I won't get lost
I won't cry until that day
