dreamer believer
freedom promise
my life

A dreamer of the distant future, a believer from the day I started running
A freedom that celebrates beginnings you can certainly hear it, can't you Come, let's engrave the sound of life even deeper
The endless beat I'm sending you, the season that moves in circles

The yesterday when I didn't give up, and the everyday that I choose
Are linked together by tomorrow the wind is blowing into the future
Come, let's spin some more tales
With love in my hands, I start rowing with you

Promises of tomorrow, my life repeating itself
One way for each of us, my story that came to be Even if you're miles away, it's alright being far away
At the end of the radiating light, we'll be together on our sailing days

Phrases overlapping... thousands of dreams

The melody sung by the wind, a harmony echoing through the sky
Tears we shed at times we felt joyful
No matter which of these instruments, let's just play it some more
Praying for eternity, all my love is you

My promises to you, my wish that leaps through time
At this rate you're on your way, a story that expresses my joy
I say good night to today, and wish for the morning light
Onto the unknown that's ahead, let's go towards our sailing days

Phrases overlapping...
Towards my dream...
Until I reach it...

A dreamer of the distant future, a believer from the day I started running
A freedom that celebrates beginnings, a promise to meet again
My life repeating itself
