Dom di gi dom di gi di gi dom dom jump up

The feelings that suddenly come to the surface
I passed the days by forcing out a pained smile to hide them

With a heart that's been just slightly wounded, I hide my weakness of being unable to say anything once again
I'm hesitating over something

That's right no matter what kind of answer you hear, it won't become a map to guide you
If you feel like it and can take a step forward, the path will open for you

Fly higher even if it's a dream that won't end, I can't give up
Someday over the rainbow I was chasing after let's go towards it
The world I'd been drawing all along is surely there

Your words over the phone
I feel the same kind of warmth from them I'm lost for an answer

Even for people like us, there's a tomorrow waiting It's okay to lose because we can get up again and again

Fly higher that's how everyone holds pride in themselves
And so what we have in our hands will become a light to shine on the present
The feelings I'd been holding on to all along are still here

We're just steadily walking on and on
Dom di gi dom di gi di gi dom dom
Right now may be treating me pretty terribly, but I'll keep looking for a chance
Even if we cry tens of thousands of tears, let's jump up over that rainbow

That's right no matter what kind of answer you hear, it won't become a map to
guide you

Fly higher even if it's a dream that won't end, I can't give up
Someday over the rainbow I was chasing after let's go towards it
The world I'd been drawing all along is surely there
