(0000000000 000000000000)
I'll go anywhere I'll do anything you are the only one can light up my life,
baby
(000000000000 000000000...)

0000000000000000000000000000
00000000000 000000000000

I'll go anywhere I'll do anything I'll be there cause, you are the part of my life
I'll go anywhere I'll do anything I'll be there for you

It became normal that you were next to my right side
Almost as if we weren't going to meet again, you were saying
"So I'll never forget you, I'm drawing your portrait" Although at first, we were goofing around, but soon tears overflowed and we couldn't move

Baby while you carefully put away your drying palette
It's painful that the time we spent together is being closed off the tears won't stop yet

It was the first time that your attempt to act normal looked like a lie
Even though I had watched many expressions on your profile

Since I decided not to cry, I smiled like my usual self Because I dared myself to force an imitation, something crumbled and I started to cry very hard

Baby you opened the folded palette once more
In the white spots, you wrote "I'll always love you"
Making those feelings of your love obvious with all your might
So it definitely wouldn't fade, we closed it inside the palette

I don't wanna care the left time
But we don't have the time, you know?
So, I say...

In the drops that followed the line of my cheek
Were the ruins of the feelings that wouldn't end
The light of the moon is the only illumination
It was impossible, wasn't it? to say bye-bye with a smile

I'll go anywhere I'll do anything I feel the echo you are the part of my life
(Your profile when you were bluffing also your face when you couldn't stop crying)

I'll go anywhere I'll do anything you are the only one can light up my life,
(Various colors are lined up, all inside of that)

While you carefully put away your drying palette
It's painful that the time we spent together is being closed off
