Right now, through the wall of time that we can't return to, a bolt of light ning pierces my heart
The days I was familiar with were engraved in my body oh they're frozen now
The delicate balance is breaking and the mask comes off
It's too much to hide my actions anymore oh no no no...

The two of us held a secret in our pasts that we couldn't tell anyone

Comin' right back to you (to hide my wounds from myself, I talked with you)
Right back to you if I were an angel...
Right back to you (passing through the nights when I thought I would freeze,
searching for love)
Right back to you believing only one thing, you

Your alibi always falls apart because of the self-centered easy games you play
"Don't worry about it" (right about time) you say as you look in the mirror

We'd dropped our important memories somewhere (I can still remember them)

Comin' right back to you (to hide my wounds from myself, I talked with you)
Right back to you if I were an angel...
Right back to you (passing through the nights when I thought I would freeze,
searching for love)
Right back to you believing only one thing, you

The four seasons go by again bounce, baby
Freaky, freaky, freaky night, dance, baby
Even brushing your hand with mine gets me excited mayday, mayday
We're coming from a sea of light thanks, baby

The next night as well, we're still caught in a trap
But even so, we know that if there's a gap, we'll be able to run away

I'll bring you with me, so let's find a way to go into space
I'm coming right back to you (comin' right back to you)

Right back to you (to hide my wounds from myself, I talked with you)

Right back to you if I were an angel...

Right back to you (passing through the nights when I thought I would freeze,
searching for love)

Right back to you believing only one thing, you

Right back to you (passing through the nights when I thought I would freeze,
searching for love)

Right back to you believing only one thing, you
