When your wispy scent grows close, even with my eyes closed, I know it's you
It's not a dream the breath you let escape makes my heart race

Can you hear it? the sound in the air
Once I realize it, I'm falling down I can't stop the memories

A diamond that has matured through the passing time
I want to put one on your finger with a shine like no other

If the two of us could fall to a place deeper than anywhere else
Then even in a darkness where you can't see anything, I'll gently embrace yo u
I'm not afraid of the end
Beginnings always start from underground
Make it resound further and further

Your beautiful tears fall, becoming clear crystals
If you try to touch them, a pain close to something nostalgic is reflected

Do you remember? the sounds from back then
Hitting and breaking me down the memories are the same as ever

The skin you shed was like the smooth edge of a blade
I don't care if I get hurt, because I just want to be by your side

If we broke to pieces every time we held each other tightly
Then as long as we become one to the point that everything else disappears, it's fine
No one knows when the end will come
But there's always a new beginning waiting
Make it resound further

Ah a short moment of pleasure
Burn up and return to ashes
There shouldn't be such a thing as the end
I want...(to see you) and borrow you again

Just following your scent
My feelings are still wandering lost
Ah, enough wanna know?

Let's escape into the dark (oh)
And show how powerful even the smallest light can be (oh)
We don't ever have to be apart again (oh)
So… please stay by me (oh)

Even tainted, you're fine as you are
Let's escape into our dreams (yeah yeah)
Reality is always to forceful (yeah yeah)
Rolling, rolling days

Every time you strike my heart, sparks fly
While gazing at each other, we'll go into the light
The overlapping sounds drew a spiral
As we melt together, we'll go to eternity

If the two of us could fall to a place deeper than anywhere else
Then even in a darkness where you can't see anything, I'll gently embrace yo u
I'm not afraid of the end
Beginnings always start from underground
Make it resound further and further
