The train is running through the darkness heading to a place that no one's been
Before we knew it, the number of days had piled up traveling on this rail that we can't look back on
What had I acquired and what had I lost? it seems like I'll forget the future I'd thought of in those days

Taking you away from there runaway!
Running through this summer that won't come back again 1,2,3 lights up!

It's okay don't just blame yourself everyone feels the same way
Everyone has troubles they can't talk about while smiling, their heart is wounded
While getting lost and while trembling, they're searching for the place meant for them

If you're with me, I can go anywhere runaway!
Small flowers are more than enough, right? don't give up 1,2,3 lights up!

Yeah, yeah something like this
Runaway with you, holding this hand
What? that's right

It's better not to turn around and look back
Throw your regrets into that clear sky so
Keep ya head up, keep ya head up
If you're always worried
Then I'll firmly grab ahold of your hand
Sing it! hey! ho! hey! ho!

Taking you away from there runaway!
Running through this summer that won't come back again

If you're with me, I can go anywhere runaway!
Small flowers are more than enough, right? don't give up 1,2,3 lights up!
