I bought a silver ring that seems like it would suit you
Only fifteen more minutes until we planned to meet

At an intersection in the hustle and bustle, my hand was shaking
You started to run towards me looking so happy

I feel a little awkward putting it into words
But there's something I want to tell you
I love you
I only want to see your smiling face forever

If I could always walk on this path
I'd want you by my right side
Tall summer clouds

I wondered what would happen in the future
Until I could meet you again

I can't buy expensive things yet
But there are things I can do with all of my might now
Holding you
Only on nights when you are shaking forever

No matter how old we get
I feel like I want to pass the time messing around and laughing like this

I feel a little awkward putting it into words
But there's something I want to tell you
I love you
I want to bet everything on this and protect it oh

I can't buy expensive things yet
But there are things I can do with all of my might now
Holding you
Only on nights when you are shaking forever
