□□□□□□□□□ over again my time □□□□□□□
□□□□□□□□□ wo yeah...

Separating one day meeting another
Countless tears and painful throbs pile up I'm still waiting here
So I could, so I would, you know?

Overcoming words deep in my heart
Something unknown is born a sound is playing like it's being enveloped
So I dream on surely

"Forever, from a gap in the stardust" if we meet in a dream
"To the limit that this shaking heart can hurt" this hope for eternity
"The echoing misery is like glass" I wonder if it will reach you
So I could, so I would, you know?

"The promise is forever reflected" the continuation of the dream
"This time that I was holding was only a joke" is far away
The light gathered and I closed my eyes, alone
So I dream on gently

And then I walked aimlessly, like that day
What I was just looking at over again was my time now I go through the shaking window
That's right, up to where love gently floats wo yeah...

In the silence, there's a melody from sometime
The unending song's words and warmth are flowing it's still echoing now

Passing through the memories deep in my heartbeat
The overlapping tones heal the scars on my heart like it's answering the sorrow
So I dream on surely

"Because the radiance will connect anywhere" if I shade my eyes with my hand
"Pouring down on this heart eternally" then I wonder
"Beautifully repeating like ripples on the water" if I can see the distant future
So I could, so I would, you know?

"The promise is forever reflected" in a gap in the dream
"These quiet thoughts that I held" I drew a rainbow
The light overflowed and I closed my eyes, alone
So I dream on gently

And then the sky that I looked up to on that day alone
What I was just searching for was a song for me that I wanted to meet now I only want emotions
That's right, up to where love gently floats wo yeah...

Everything is unclear while I'm wandering around in dawn's maze
Even if the dream comes to an end and I wake up, I won't forget

"Forever, from a gap in the stardust" if we meet in a dream
"To the limit that this shaking heart can hurt" this hope for eternity
"The echoing misery is like glass" I wonder if it will reach you
So I could, so I would, you know?

"The promise is forever reflected" the continuation of the dream
"This time that I was holding was only a joke" is far away
The light gathered and I closed my eyes, alone
So I dream on gently

And then I walked aimlessly, like that day
What I was just looking at over again was my time now I go through the shaking window

That's right, up to where love gently floats wo yeah...
