A quiet wind passed by
The ground is enveloped in a warm scent

Sunrise, Japan the light that rushes around has a strength to it
Sunrise, Japan break through it our soul is right here

In the cities, many things are simply being made and thrown away without any one caring
When we look back on this time someday, remember that you were here
So that you can say you lived with spirit so that you can say it
Hold on tightly to the love you have for your friends

Keep those unforgettable words in your heart open your eyes sing a melody
You can start over at any time light the fire in your heart

Sunrise, Japan take in the loneliness as well while looking up at the stars
Sunrise, Japan wipe away even your tears with both hands and laugh

The times when you don't want to talk to anyone and the nights when you want to show off
Everyone has them so, don't worry and keep trying Coming to like people, getting hurt, and kissing
Hold on tightly to the love you have for your friends

You couldn't withstand the sorrow on your own, but it can be done with two people
Because you'll become a stronger person than the one from yesterday

Sunrise, Japan make this era into the shape of everyone's love
Sunrise, Japan we'll change it that's right don't give up

A quiet wind passed by
The ground is enveloped in a warm scent

Sunrise, Japan the light that rushes around has a strength to it
Sunrise, Japan break through it our soul is right here

Sunrise, Japan take in the loneliness too while looking up at the stars
Sunrise, Japan wipe away even your tears with both hands and laugh

In the cities, many things are simply being made and thrown away without any one caring

When we look back on this time someday, remember that you were here
