If a love song begins to play through the town

Then people get closer together

I'll definitely take you along with me to show you this radiance

While having an experience when your love didn't reach someone

It will get stronger even if it's painful for your heart

Until I can become a man that suits you well

It's difficult when you seem like you won't turn around to face me

Recently I think that the passing seasons are beautiful

It's because I knew that you would be there

Now is the time let's tell each other

If a love song begins to play through the town

Then people get closer together

I'll definitely take you along with me to show you this radiance

I tried a test to become a kind man

But it was as if you were unsatisfied with that "me"

It would even be okay to climb a steep road against a powerful wind

If we can go on living together, I'll protect you

Let's swear to it

If a love song begins to play through the town

Then people smile together

When the bell's chimes echo

I'll definitely hold you very close

If a love song begins to play through the town

Then people talk of love

I'll definitely take you along with me to show you this radiance

I'll keep loving you
