

Hola Daniel!

Em... tuve un sueño en que estábamos mirando a un horizonte Mirando hacia un horizonte y el horizonte nos envolvía 360 grados Mientras comíamos una fruta que olía como el mar El horizonte era como en luces, pero negativas que absorbían la luz que emanaba...

Yo Ale, it's Daniel

Um... I had this really weird dream last night about a garden sanctuary

Where we were growing sounds and we would harvest some And eat them at a big dining room table in this greenhouse And beyond the garden and then just underneath the stars Were hills [?] hatched our giants

And we were laughing because their shadows looked like psoriasis

And we would just sit and laugh and be happy knowing they were looking over us

So... yeah, I think we should make a... we should try to make a patch together one day

We can call it "Starlit Psoriasis" and it can sound really hollow and celestial

It should also be really bright and abject

Ok, love you

Peace... I hope you're doing good

Bye
