

Raleigh Days

Archers of Loaf

There was no writing on the wall
You were offended and appalled
You never saw demise coming

And in a flash, you crashed, you came
Down. They were always taking trains
While on their way to becoming something else

Raleigh days
At the bar I heard you say:
"I'm gonna be somebody
Someday, someday, someday."

Caught in the corner with your back
Against the world. Into the cracks
You're falling faster than time itself

Call all your people on the line
They're putting faces to your crimes
They see a way back, man

They're something else

Raleigh days
From the Fallout Shelter stage
I heard you scream you're
"...gonna be somebody, be somebody
Someday...someday, someday."

There was no writing on the wall
You were offended and appalled
You never saw demise coming

And in a flash, you crashed, you came
Down. They were always taking trains
While on their way back, after something else

Raleigh days!
At the bar i heard you say:
"I'm gonna be somebody
Someday, someday, someday."
