

Hereafter

Architects

Now the oceans have drained out
Can I come up for air?
Cause I've been learning to live without
And I'm fighting with broken bones

I wasn't ready for the rapture
We're only passing through
But these words, they mean nothing to me
I know that time will mend this fracture
I've been lost in a maze
And every route I take leads right back to you

Now the oceans have drained out
Can I come up for air?
Cause I've been learning to live without
And I'm fighting with broken bones
Now the skies have been blacked out
I've gotta find my way
Cause its been raining but there's a drought
And I'm fighting with broken bones

I've been searching through the wreckage
But its like standing in the eye of the storm
When will I finally get the message?

Some things are broken beyond repair
This is my cross to bear
My own meaningless catastrophe
I never had the time to prepare
Because I never knew that
All my nightmares could come true

Now the oceans have drained out
Can I come up for air?
Cause I've been learning to live without
And I'm fighting with broken bones
Now the skies have been blacked out
I've gotta find my way
Cause its been raining but there's a drought
And I'm fighting with broken bones

I've spent my fair share
In the deepest depths of despair
Cause I was too lost down there to care
I wasn't braced for the fallout
I wasn't braced for the fallout

I've been searching through the wreckage
But its like standing in the eye of the storm
When will I finally get the message?
Some things are broken beyond repair

Now the oceans have drained out
Can I come up for air?
Cause I've been learning to live without
And I'm fighting with broken bones
Now the skies have been blacked out

I've gotta find my way
Cause its been raining but there's a drought
And I'm fighting with broken bones
