

Abandon the Linear

Archspire

Casting in reverse
Reeling from below
Baiting with a cure
Of indefinite forward
Pre-empting
Independent thought

Floating in their multilateral current
Of artificial living
Spawning in their pond
Of expedited mortal sequences
An inherent draw
To their synthetic prosperity
Lures us to their hook

Making effect of all action
Appear former to the cause
To conceal their capability
To reconfigure time

Abandoning the linear
Past awareness to the unknown
Reverting all consciousness
To nothingness
To emptiness

Terminating thought and feeling
Falling toward the never-ending
In a state of savage bliss
Insettent and laughing up blood

We named it Boanet
Honoring the first one to birth it

They came here from out of the unknown
Arriving on our planet
By replacing human birthing
Teleporting from the dilated portal
In between the femurs
Of the half that used to breed us
Timelessly we all await the wonder
In the mouth of our new creature
Sacrifice the old offspring
To our serpent's ones
Looking in their glow while in the crawl
To track our kin to feed them
Laughing up blood

Casting out in reverse
Reeling us from below
With the bait of curing
Our indefinite forward
Floating in their multilateral current
Fading into the endless
While laughing up blood

Hunting
Ripping us out of the membrane separating two worlds
Colliding into one another
Punctured
With our bite there is relief in being taken
Lash till death
Against an unimaginable landing
Suffocating in their foreign color spectrum
Blinded
Fixated in awe
By what our eyes could never process
Alleviating every alerted nerve

Abandoning the linear
To nothingness
To emptiness

Terminating thought and feeling

Inherent intent take control
Of our conscience
Growing at a pace they contort
To conform us
Fallen like the many other
Forms of coexisting live had
Victim to their birthing pillage
Endangering every cognitive race
They can find while in hyper travel
In any realm infiltradable
And parallel to their own
That exuded reproductive capacity and awareness

Fade into the never-ending
Confront inaite decay
Embrace eternal rot
