

Join Us Beyond

Archspire

I awake on the shore
The entity that greets me upon this plane
Appears as many changing forms
Flushing constant waves of shape
None of which I have ever seen
"To unite, we breed with all species indiscriminately
Live or dead, from any universe
Righteous, the torment that you will endure
Just to comprehend what we are
Over come the self, Leave your fear behind
Open up your mind
Let us in"
I'm asked by the being if I'm dreaming or I'm dead?
When the portal opened, Changing everything
Catastrophic multitudes of dimensional mending
Offset the natural order
Spreading its disease over every world
In the wake of its infection
Causing counter planetary lifeforms to contact each other
By engaging mental methods of unifying dream response
Thus the alliance for timeless existence formed
A galactic coalition of intelligence
Unanimously ravelling their consciousness to become one
"Ever growing, we are many, join us in our hive
Dream with us and we will teach you
How to visualize the surroundings of your new world
Once you break through the fabrications of fear
You can become any construct that you desire
If your dream be that of fire
Transform the fire to earth, wind or water
Sculpt the elements around you with intricacy
Comprehend the nature of their pliable dimensions
You are the conductor
The path is clear to cut away the fabric of time, linear, That which you fear
And join us beyond
Always question if you are dreaming
Envision every inch of your newly born surroundings
As pieces of your self
For you have constructed every molecule
Of this unstable plane of the subconscious
Comprising your lucid dream
Remove the body through the mind
Find your hands while you are dreaming
Carry that self to the distant place where your old dying self lay
Sink into this decomposing human slab
And ride upon its life light as it fades in flashes"
My essence now mates with the thousands of others
No longer apart from the creature that brought me here
The voice of this entity has been ingrained into me
Guiding my path into hyper reality
Breaking down patterns of pain that emerge
In the very last seconds before my new reckoning
Thriving in a formless state of pure expression
Fearlessly I join the lucid collective beyond
A web of new life awaits exempt of the body
Leave yourself behind and become one with the hive

Join us beyond the gateways of the dreaming dead