Die dreaming

The visions of beings came to me while asleep
With the implicit wisdom of the powers to awaken dream
These creatures of many I am not dreaming of
For my dream is as real as I can realize

These sightings soon become increasingly cognitive
I gain the knowledge of one hundred thousand alien species during R.E.M
They have proven to be real, others can see them too
We have been selected to join them beyond

Rapid Elemental Dissolve
All Shall Align
Align and ascend

These things planted seeds inside of me nocturnally
Breeding an alliance to defeat the Ghosts of Silent Tongue

While inside my senses thrive
A collective bond within the hive
I feel our voices unite as they encircle me

We have woken, all as one
From our sleeping selves in that we rot

Dormant no longer

As it forms and speaks it's name, the Earth dies dreaming

Mending deathless motion as we all become extensions of the eldest
Our path reset to take no course by the laws of time
We evolve from the flesh that once bound us
A collective conscious joins to recreate the first molecule
Born free
Created is a new replacement life source
One of massless, formless, endless presence

As it forms and speaks it's name the Earth dies dreaming

Forces of infinite origin have taken steps
To return our conceived cycle of life
To a structure outdating Earth

Questions of transcendence follow now
I must ask myself
Does the alignment create the belief in the elite
Or the reverse?

As it forms and speaks it's name the Earth dies dreaming

The collective constructed a landscape of matter generated through a collaborative focus abiogenetically

We will supersede the need for this dormant human body
Disposing of this now fading shell by means of lucid dreaming
And ascend as one beginning the war on sleep

Alliance for timeless existence
Has begun
Rapid Elemental Dissolve

The end is what is and what will be combined
When the Ancient one speaks it's name All Shall Align
