

Diary

Arco

thought life was like a diary begun the day you're born filled with crazy writing up to the latest dawn and reaching out from there towards the page you'd never turn the empty days the fate you'd still to learn

but nothing this confusing could be so clearly drawn and today i saw it in a different light and my heart sank the days to come were filled the days gone, blank.
