

Restless

Arco

conclusions all unsure questions still unheard confusion we endure
restless on this earth

and we dream of some long-lost state careless as we were but it's the future we must face

what doesn't kill you only makes you weaker till you don't know how much you can stand if there's a lesson time's a hopeless teacher don't understand

fortune favours not the brave heedlessly they turn to others hoping to be saved one by one they burn so if there's caution in our gaze this at least we've learned unknown we trace our days
